

News & Updates from the Office of Councilman Kevin McManus

Flooding in South KC Spurs Council Resolution & Community Outreach

Flooding along Indian Creek and the Blue River corridor reached historic levels after two recent weather events and caused significant damage to businesses and residents located nearby.

In response, Sixth District Councilmen Kevin McManus and Scott Taylor introduced and passed a resolution last week that directed the City Manager to develop a regional, comprehensive strategy to address flooding in this area as well as other flood prone areas, such as Brush Creek, Town Fork Creek and Line Creek. The resolution requires the City Manager to report back to the full council with recommendations, potential funding sources, and a timeline for implementation.

In addition, Councilmen McManus and Taylor continue to meet with businesses and residents who have been impacted by the recent floods. At their urging, Kansas City's BizCare and Economic Development Corp. have been assisting businesses that are seeking relocation guidance and other services. In addition, Councilman McManus assisted in organizing a neighborhood meeting hosted by the Here's Waldo Neighborhood Association (www.hereswaldoneighborhood.org) for impacted residents. Over fifty residents attended and had the opportunity to talk one-on-one with Water Services management, Councilman McManus, 6th District PIAC representatives John Sharp and Stacey Johnson-Cosby, and staff from 311.

City's Procurement Selection Committee Recommends KCI Terminal Proposal

After much research and deliberation, the City's procurement selection committee recently recommended Edgemoor Infrastructure & Real Estate LLC as the preferred development team to design, build, and finance the new terminal at KCI.

The City Council is presently considering the recommended proposer.

Separately, the City Council has authorized a ballot question for the Nov. 7, 2017, election that will ask voters for approval to proceed with the terminal development project. A "yes" vote, with a simple majority, would provide approval to demolish existing terminals as needed, and approval for construction of a new single terminal to serve the airport.

More information about the terminal development process, the requirements of the RFQ/P that was issued by the City, and all proposals that were submitted in response can be viewed at www.kcmo.gov/newkci.
